Butchers Vote Today on Strike In Pay Dispute

Formal Rejection of Hotel Supply Firms' Offer Expected

A new strike appeared likely today, with carpenters, construction laborers, pie salesmen and produce truck drivers already made idle by wage and hour disputes.

Union meatcutters who prepare meat for hotel distribution were to meet this afternoon to vote on a strike. Formal rejection of a wage offer proposed by five hotel supply houses is expected.

Employers, including National Hotel Supply, District Hotel Supply, Washington Beef and Provision, Auth Bros. and Jepson, all members of the wholesale food division of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association, also are scheduled to meet today. Pay Proposal Rejected.

The American Federation of Labor Amalgamated Meatcutters Local 393 is asking an 11-cent hourly wage increase. According to Albert G. Gray, secretary-treasurer and business manager of the local, the employers have offered 6 cents and the proposal has been Maryland University.

June 1, the butchers are receiving saised beef cattle for seven years and made more than enough added, "has been too little farm money to send themselves to the purchasing power.
